

Rules for Doe Run Racing

206 Beginner Outlaw Cage Karts & 206 Outlaw Cage Karts

- 206 will be running the 2019 Briggs and Stratton 206 Outlaw rules until further notice, check their website out for the rules
- You may run any tires in the 206 Kart classes only
- 206 CLASSES have an open-air filter
- It is mandatory that racers have a fire suit, full face helmet, racing shoes/boots, neck brace and arm restraints, IN ALL KART CLASSES
- At the age of 14 and older you must move up to a different class
- The 206 Kart class only has a $50 protest rule, $10 of it goes to the track the other $40 goes to the driver of the kart. The rules highlighted in pink will be what they will be protesting on. If you protest another kart you must do so within 15 minutes after the feature race. You must have cash in hand when you protest. If the kart that is being protested refuses to tear down, they will lose their points for the current night and their next points night. This is only for the 206 Kart class.
- 206 Motor Claim will be $795 to claim a motor (will not include carburetor/exhaust, just straight motor). It must also be done within 15 minutes at the scales after the feature race. First refusal to give a claim to motor will lose their points for 2 races (the current night and their next points race). Second refusal to give claim to motor will result in additional loss of points for 3 weeks.
- The 206 Karts must weigh 300 lbs. with driver
